

Standish Monument

Looking north from Myles Standish Monument, 1899.

"Duxbury Day"

Historical Festival and Pageant by the People of Duxbury, in connection with the Standish Monument Association

Saturday, July 31, 1909

To celebrate the Landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth and the coming of Myles Standish, John Alden, George Soule and other Pilgrims to Duxbury, and to do honor to their courage, heroism and valor.

Barges will meet all trains at both Duxbury and South Duxbury Stations to convey people to the grounds of the Town Hall, The Unitarian Church and The Partridge Academy, where the celebration will be held.

These three buildings are located in the exact geographical centre of the town and are themselves of historic interest.

They stand side by side on slightly elevated ground surrounded by a forest of pines, poplars and sturdy oak trees. What more fitting background could be found for such a celebration!

The morning will be devoted to the visiting of various points of historical interest for which purpose barges will be on hand, and at eleven o'clock there will be speeches in the Auditorium of the Unitarian Church by Hon. John D. Long, Ex-Secretary of the Navy, and other prominent men.

DINNER

Dinner will be served in the Town Hall by the ladies of Duxbury between the hours of 12.30 and 3 o'clock.

The Town Hall will be converted into a great New England kitchen and the waitresses will wear the pilgrim costume.

REFRESHMENTS

Light refreshments, ice cream, etc., will be served a la carte in a temporarily erected Log Cabin.

The flags and coat of arms of England, Holland and America will be used as decorations.